Old Testament reading: "Chorus—"Tis Sunshine," junior girls (singing), junior boys (whistling).

(a) Song—"Little Stars," Ruth Pickels, Edith Bergman, Reba Light.

(b) Song—"Little Stars," Ruth Pickels, Edith Bergman, Reba Light.

Solo—(a) selected; (b) "The Year at the Spring" (Browning) Mrs. J. W. Lorenzen.

Closing song—"God Bless Our Schools."

Sunday school benediction.

Chaplain Thomas Livingston, of the 4th cavalry, addressed the members of the First Presbyterian church Missionary society at the meeting Tuesday afternoon, at the church. His talk on different phases of his work among the soldiers was very interesting. The main difficulty is in providing amusement and entertainment for the soldiers, the chaplain said, as the government makes no financial provision for this.

Mrs. W. Van Long read current events, and a social hour was enjoyed.

It was voted by the Missionary society to contribute a certain amount monthly to chaplain Livingston for his work.

Mrs. W. Van Long was elected vice president in place of Mrs. W. H. Williams, who has moved to the state of Kansas. Three new members were added to the society: Mrs. J. A. Dick, Mrs. M. Z. Mead and Mrs. Frank Tolchman.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses, assisted by Messdames G. Crombie, H. M. Patterson, Harris Walthall, and Miss Kate Fink.

This was the final meeting of the Missionary society, as it adjourns through the summer. The meetings will be resumed in the fall.

A business meeting of the Aid society of the Westminster Presbyterian church was held Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors. The usual routine business was transacted. The society will continue to meet during the summer.

The final meeting of the Daughters of the King will next fall was held at the rectory of St. Clement's church Tuesday afternoon. Plans were formulated for next year's work and a pleasant social time was enjoyed. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Henry Easter.

The regular bimonthly social of the Euzonians of St. Clement's church, scheduled for Thursday night, has been deferred on account of the senior class reception at the high school occurring the same night. The Euzonians will hold a Mesa party picnic Wednesday night, May 22.

Rev. J. F. Williams and his family were tendered a reception Tuesday night at the First Baptist church by the congregation of the church. The reception was well attended and a general spirit of good fellowship and enthusiasm about the church work prevailed. A program of musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, was given, and addresses were made by the following: Rev. J. F. Williams, Rev. Ed L. Milligan, P. W. Freeman, F. W. Hatchell, D. H. Thompson and G. W. Putnam, with a response by the new pastor, Rev. J. F. Williams. Assisting in the receiving line were all the deacons of the church and their wives. Refreshments were served.

There will be an informal reception in Trinity M. E. church Thursday evening, May 23, at 8 o'clock, for the 162 new members received into the church since October. New members will wear ribbon bows to distinguish them.

The Organ Grinders of the First Christian church held a business meeting, followed with a social hour Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berkshire, 1840 Upson avenue. Punch, cakes and bonbons were served.

Twenty-five cent apricot sherbet delivered after supper. Elite Confectionery.

What the Dainty Woman Wears About the House

Copyright, 1912, by I. J. Robinson.

KIMONAS of a good quality of silkoline, in delightful designs and colorings, and edged with wide bands of satin, may be bought for $3.50.

A novel negligee seen in one of the shops owed its original style to the very wide, pointed revers that turned back from the opening at the throat on one side only, and extended below the waist, where the narrow point was finished with a long tassel. The left edge of the garment was simply stitched, as was the bottom of the sleeves and the skirt, and was brought over to the side to fasten with two large buttons, just beneath the tasseled end of the revers. Undersleeves of material matching this revers completed the attractive little lounging robe.

The sailor collar is well adapted for use on dressing sack or tea gown. In sheer embroidery with a lace frill about the edge they are seen on both silk and cotton models. For $1.95 one may get a very dainty matinee of sea-ured lawn having a sailor collar, and wide cuffs, made from the same material, but edged with lace and insertion.

A most elaborate matinee of all-over lace with a lining of pale blue silk suggested the possibility of a home-made copy, in which an old lace waist or gown and the satin lining of last year's party gown might be used. The all-over lace of the model, which was in pointed effect about the bottom, had blue silk tassels to finish each point.

The lines of the new tea gowns follow very closely the trend of the styles in other garments. The crushed girdle has displaced the Empire effects, the side closing is much used, and pretty cutaway effects are obtained by the use of lace applied in a sort of coat tail effect that begins from the center of the front.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE SUMMER LINGERIE.

Many of the new night gowns are trimmed with lace about the hem, and some are slashed up at either side, with lace outlining the slashes. They remain

About 25 members of the Organ Grinders were present.

The missionary meeting of the Aid society of the Highland Park Methodist church will be held at the church Thursday afternoon.

Cards

Mrs. C. M. Newman was hostess for the meeting of the Tuesday bridge club Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. C. French, 1522 Montana street. Roses and old fashioned flowers attractively decorated the rooms.

The club members present were Messdames J. R. Brown, Lamar Davis, W. W. Turner, J. E. Hunter, Fred Feldman, U. S. Stewart, W. D. Wise, Winchester Cooley, John Dyer, J. C. Lackland, James L. May, Henry Carpenter, M. R. Wright, and the guests were Messdames Donald D. Gillies, T. R. Ryan, Henry Perris, Thomas Hassan, H. S. Kettler, R. Y. Anderson; Misses Josephine Clardy, Miss Hicky, Mrs. Lathrop, of Madera, Mex., and Mrs. V. L. Geline.

Mrs. U. S. Stewart will be the hostess of the club next Tuesday.

An important house furnishing item. Probably nothing plays a more important part in furnishing the home than rugs. In this connection we call special attention to our Rug Department which is now showing some of the most beautiful patterns in room size and small rugs ever seen in El Paso.

In addition to regular size rugs, we mention that we have large Axminsters in size 12x12. If a rug is among your immediate or in-the-near-future requirements, be sure and see what we have to offer.

Besides such mention is made that our stock of linoleum embraces the best qualities and patterns.

The Modified Pannier

The pannier in some form appears in many of the prettiest gowns of the more dressy order.

A beautiful rose figured white silk was made as shown here, with a skirt slightly full at the top. This fullness is gathered in pannier form under a shirred band of the same material, which extends around the back and ends under a ruche at each side. A fichu and vest of white chiffon finish the upper part of the waist. A soft silk fringe edges the fichu and a bow of the velvet is placed at the bust line in front.

For the woman who does not care for the combination garments the chemise with fitted back should prove satisfactory. The garment is cut with a small inverted plait just below the waist line, which makes it fit snugly about the waist.

Very dainty, if not quite practicable, are the night gowns of white, pink or blue crepe de chine, trimmed with Normandy val about the yokes and sleeves. Cotton crepe is gaining in favor for lingerie, and especially for gowns, because of the ease with which it may be laundered.

A clever way to make the popular combination garments, so that the combination may be severed if one desires, is to finish the top of the drawers and the bottom of the corset cover with separate bands of heading. One ribbon may be run through them both, so that either garment may be changed very easily.

There is little change in the corsets for this season, a fact which pleases Madame mightily, though it grieves the correct-maker sorely. They remain

School Notes

A very enjoyable entertainment was given by the Alpha Omega club and the sub-graduates of St. Joseph's academy. It was given in honor of this year's graduates, who are to be the Misses Edith Maloney, Katie Stiles and Stella Cassidy.

The recreation and dining rooms were beautifully decorated in the club colors of red and white, with numerous pennants and cut flowers.

During the earlier part of the evening a well prepared program was rendered, which was as follows:

Song, "Daisies won't tell," club members.

Recitation, "The treckled face girl," Miss Nola Young.

Vocal solo, "Forgotten," Miss Rosemary Bennett.

Recitation, "The old and the new," Miss Marie Lynch.

Vocal solo, "The Fiddle and I," Miss Adeline Escalada.

Piano solo, Miss Virginia Ryan.

Vocal solo, "Resignation," Miss Bianchi Garvin.

Address to graduates, Miss Jewel Howard.

Vocal solo, "Good night little girl," Miss Kathryn O'Connor.

Hymn, club members.

After the program refreshments of ice, cake and candies were served in the dining room. A color scheme of red and white was carried out on the tables, the centerpiece being a silver loving cup filled with red roses. The place cards were fan shaped with the club monogram palleted in red. The graduates received many congratulations and pretty gifts from their friends and schoolmates.

The arrangement committee consisted of the Misses Alice McDow, George Stewart and Holly Spelman.

The alumni of the high school and all friends of the school held a picnic Tuesday at Washington park. About 150 were in the party and in spite of the wind, enjoyed a delightful time.
